Experience complementary perspectives and dialogue focused on building a strong, profitable, high quality collaborative practice and a vibrant, congruent, supportive practice group.

Take the next step with Pauline and Woody toward becoming a full-time collaborative peacemaker.

Master teachers Pauline Tesler and Woody Mosten are offering a joint training to provide collaborative professionals the best of what each has to offer. Both Woody and Pauline have long been committed to an interdisciplinary approach with a focus on flexible and compatible roles and interventions among lawyers, mental health coaches, and financial professionals.

WHY SHOULD YOU ATTEND?

- Two dynamic internationally-recognized trainers who each will be present for all three days, alternating roles as key trainer and responder, and including joint presentation time as well
- Two optional evening dinner discussions facilitated by both Pauline and Woody
- Trainers who meet IACP standards
- Optional post-training mentoring and supervision via telephone/video conferencing directly with either or Woody and Pauline
- Legal CLE credits as well as mental health credits and financial education credits are being applied for

THE TRAINING includes techniques with which Woody trains Collaborative Professionals worldwide. He has taught these approaches for decades in the fields of mediation and unbundled legal services. These are concrete, proven teachings aimed at the solo collaborative professional which develop step by step the conflict resolution and practice building skills and confidence required to take the leap into successful, profitable full time collaborative peacemaking.

In addition, this joint training will feature key elements from Pauline's unique and highly effective practice/practice group/community-building training programs, proven to work in recalibrating, motivating, and jump-starting practice groups that are prepared to take the collective leap to the next level. Pauline has been working with collaborative practice groups worldwide for nearly fifteen years, helping communities to launch collaborative practice in North America, Europe, Israel, Australia and New Zealand and conducting master classes in communities where CP is flourishing. Lately, she has been working intensively with practice groups that feel stuck at an unsatisfactory plateau in bringing CP to their communities.
